

I envision a day,
perhaps 1,111 years from now,
when Armistice Day
and Veteran's Day
become long and distant memories of a horrific past.
Perhaps 1,111 years from now,
from 11:11 a.m and 11:11 p.m., on 11 11.
on 11 11 17.
The Quest.
The Petition.
A Quest To Inaugurate.
A Quest To Petition.
A Quest for Omniphysical Consensus.
A Quest for PEACE.
No more wars.
No more conflicts.
No more attacks.
No more bombs.
No more bullets.
No more terror.
No more pain.
No more sorrow.
Only Peace.
Peace and Harmony.

Homo Sapiens,
in whatever form Homo Sapiens evolve into
over the next 1,111 years,
with or without ever having actually transformed into an Omneronaut.

And Robots.
Insentient Automatons.
Manufactured Machines.
Property of Homo Sapiens.
The Iron Age and the Bronze Age
have evolved into
the Robotic Age.
Iron tools, instruments and weapons.
Bronze tools, instruments and weapons.
Robotic tools of Peace and Harmony.
Eternal Homo Sapien and Robotic Harmony.
Eternal Peace and Harmony.

Not an armistice to be signed,
not a Veteran still alive.
The last Veteran, perhaps,
buried in obscurity,
or maybe in glory,
centuries before.
Long gone,
and maybe forgotten.
1,111 years from now.

“Thank you to all Veterans
each and every Veterans Day.

Thank you to all Veterans
for defending
each and every day thereafter enjoyed by others
as a result of your personal selfless self-sacrifice.

I envision one day
a future without a holiday for Veterans
because I envision a World without Veterans, because I envision a World WITHOUT WAR.

I envision a day,
perhaps 1,111 years from now,
when all Armistice Days
and all Veterans Day
and all Remembrance Days
become long and distant memories of a horrific past.
Perhaps 1,111 years from now,
from 11:11 a.m and 11:11 p.m., on 11 11 17.

This vision is the end that justifies a means.

Peace, is an end.
Harmony is an end.
No more living Veterans of War, is an end.

For all Veterans who have been wounded without,
and perhaps even within,
there can be no greater vision

than a future without War.

This vision of a future World of Peace and Harmony
is not impossible to actualize.

If a World of Peace and Harmony
must be a World without nuclear weaponry,
then so let it be.

But if a World without nuclear weaponry cannot be,
then let it be so that a World of Peace be strived for
in whatever PEACEFUL manner and means necessary.

A Quest for PEACE.

No more wars.

No more conflicts.

No more attacks.

No more bombs.

No more bullets.

No more terror.

No more pain.

No more sorrow.

Only Peace.

Peace and Harmony.

Peace and Eternal Harmony.

Not an armistice to be signed,
not a Veteran to be seen or heard from.

The last Veteran, perhaps,
buried in obscurity,
or maybe in glory,
centuries before.

Long gone,
and maybe forgotten.
1,111 years from now.

It is with solemn and somber gratitude and respect to ALL Veterans of ALL Nations
that have fought for Peace,
including those that are gone and long forgotten,
and those that are gone but not forgotten,
as well as those, unfortunately, that are not yet born,
that I would like to announce that

Subliminet

is about to launch a Marketing Campaign
that will be dedicated to the concept of a future WITHOUT Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Although this may not be apparent at first.

There will be nearly no mention of this intention during the Marketing Campaign
which is currently designed to last one year.

My deepest apologies to those that find any aspect of the Marketing Campaign offensive when considered within the hallowed light of living Veterans.
